Spring Forward

Hi Everyone,

We can already feel the changing of the season at last after a long cold winter. Spring is officially here tomorrow, March 20th. The days are lengthening, the earth is warming and the Spring flowers and birds are welcoming us outside. Easter holidays are early this year and we have lots of exciting out-door events planned for you during the Easter holiday and later in the Spring.

And we have a brand New Course

Foraging and Wild Cookery with Carol Hunt. Carol is an experienced forager and is well known for creating delicious feasts. She writes Wild Food Cookery articles for The Bushcraft Magazine and Funky Raw. We are so excited to welcome Carol to Natural Pathways, she has designed a fabulous day where you will be learning the skill of foraging and preparing wild edibles and then cooking up a delicious Wild Meal under her expert guidance.

Andy has designed a beautiful Foraging Staff too and you can make your own on his Staff Making day. We have plans for another new course coming this summer and we'll be sending information very soon.

Looking forward to seeing you in the woods.

The Natural Pathways Team.
